

Alison Fierst Short Bio:

Alison Fierst has established herself as a prominent orchestral musician of her generation after she joined the New York Philharmonic as Associate Principal Flute in September of 2019. Since then, she has appeared as Guest Principal with the San Francisco Symphony, Mainly Mozart Orchestra, and Guest Faculty at the Carnegie Mellon University Consummate Flutist Masterclass Series. Highlights from Alison's career in the orchestra include touring the world and performing with renowned conductors including Gustavo Dudamel, Jaap van Zweden, and Esa-Pekka Salonen, among others. Alison completed her Bachelor of Fine Arts in Flute Performance at Carnegie Mellon University in 2018. Her teachers include Alberto Almarza, Jeanne Baxtresser, and Robert Langevin.